INSTRUCTS JURY FOR THE PLAINTIFF

Judge Sparks Also Exonerates Carl
O'Neil of Blame in Connection
With Accident

RECALL 3-CORNERED MISHAP

William A. Young Awarded Damages
$39.09 Against William Carr—
Costs on Defendant

A triangular automobile accident which happened at Main and Ninth streets April 25, 1922, was settled in court this morning, when the case of William A. Young against William Carr and Carl O'Neil was heard, with the jury finding for the plaintiff against Carr, and exonerating O'Neil of any blame or damages.

The jury was quickly secured this morning, and the evidence was completed before noon. The case was not argued, and the court instructed the jury to find for the defendant O'Neil and to also find for the plaintiff against Carr, for the sum demanded, $39.09.

The jury followed the instructions of the court, and costs also were assessed against Carr.

The accident on April 25, 1922 happened when the Young machine was standing in front of their residence, and according to the evidence O'Neil came out of Ninth street, onto Main, and Carr ran his machine into it, causing the O'Neil car to strike the machine that was standing still, and which was damaged to the sum of $39.09.

The jury this morning was composed of Harry Vogle, Louis R. Hill, Mike Scanlan, Oliver Mege, George Seely, Val Conway, Nathan Farlow, James Dill, Cliff Stevens, Will Morgan, Matt Beaver and John Davis.

The jury in the court case of Morgan against the City of Rushville failed to agree on a verdict Saturday and was discharged about 8:30 o'clock Saturday night, after having deliberated since the noon hour.

The jury was deadlocked at six to six, it was understood, and in all probability the case will be set for trial again in the next term of court. The complaint was for $4,350 damages for alleged negligence of the city in not capping a gas well.

With the Daily Republican-Salvation Army Santa Claus fund more than $100 short of the same day last year, Santa Claus had every reason to be despondent. Christmas is just one week away and he realizes that if the wishes of all the little folks in Rushville, who are depending on him, are fulfilled, that there will have to be some tall stepping on the part of his friends who have not yet responded to the appeal for help.

The Salvation Army kettle is doing valiant duty daily at the corner of Second and Main streets, friends of Santa Claus dropping in loose change enough Saturday to amass $19.07.

Preparations are being made for the distribution of gifts among children and baskets among the families of the city who will not have a Christmas dinner.

LOCAL PEOPLE TO ENTERTAIN

The Jaehne-Swain Entertainers of this city will fill an engagement Wednesday night at Linton, where the school of that place will sponsor their appearance as a benefit for the school. The Rushville company is composed of Miss Dorothy Sparks, accompanist, Miss Helen Jaehne, soprano and Mrs. John Swain, reader. They expect to book engagements this season in several places, and have a special program for Parent-Teachers' association meetings.

IS TAKEN TO PRISON TONIGHT

Fred Clevenger Begins Term of One to Two Years

Fred Clevenger, convicted last week in the circuit court of the charge of transporting liquor, and who was fined Saturday by Judge Sparks in the sum of $250, and given a sentence of from 1 to 2 years at the state prison, left this morning in company with Sheriff Hunt for Michigan City, where he began his term today.

Two other cases pending on appeal in the Supreme court, may add a few more years to his prison sentence, provided that the verdict of the local court is sustained. In all probability the decision of the higher court will not be forthcoming for a year or more, as the attorneys have been granted an extension of time to file their briefs.

The investment by the employees of the Rushville postoffice, of $25.00 in the campaign against disease, helped materially in boosting the Christmas Seals and Health Bond campaign, according to today's report on the progress that is being made. The increase in the fund since Saturday's report amounted to $56.50 and was sufficient to keep the fund running neck and neck with last year.

There were several $5.00 Health Bonds in today's report. No reports have been made from the townships yet, all of the money thus far realized, with the exception of a few dollars turned in by the Rushville township chairman, having come from Rushville.

Reports from many parts of the state, according to a story sent out by the Indiana Tuberculosis association, indicate the most successful Christmas Seal sale in the history of the state. More than 43,000,000 seals have been distributed among the ninety-two counties.

This huge total of the little holiday stickers, from the proceeds of which anti-tuberculosis work is financed in every county, was made necessary during the last week, when dozens of orders for additional millions of Seals were received from many of the counties of the state. Originally it had been planned to distribute about 35,000,000 Seals in the state, but recent reorders have made necessary telegraphic orders to the National Tuberculosis Association in New York for other millions of Seals to be sent to Indiana.

GOATS IS GOATS

"THE FINE ART OF BUYING" IS PASTOR'S SERMON THEME

"The Fine Art of Buying" was the subject of the morning sermon delivered at St. Paul's M. E. church Sunday by the pastor, the Rev. H. W. Hargett. His text was taken from Matthew, 13:45-46, "The Kingdom of Heaven is like unto a man, God is." "A merchant seeking goodly pearls and when he had found one pearl of great price, he went and sold all that he had and bought it," the pastor said. "That man had learned the fine art of buying. It was a neglected art, then it has remained a neglected art ever since. Hundreds of books have been published upon the art of selling. I have yet to find one upon the art of buying."

"Commercial schools and commercial clubs teach the art of selling and merchants practice it. Advertisements are skillfully worded to command attention, retention and action. The show windows suggest to the mind more than the eye sees."

"I watched a father with three eager boys peering into the beautiful Christmas windows. One boy pointed to a sled, another to a teddy bear, another to a drum. The father in imagination saw each boy enjoying the gift. The mother sees the daughter wearing the attractive dress. Father and mother buy to meet the needs of growing bodies. Do they also buy to meet the needs of growing minds and growing souls? They will if they rightly appreciate human and eternal values."

"The pearl merchant of the parable was a seeker, a finder and buyer. The human race has ever been seeking goodly pearls. The first values that emerge in the history of the race are those of physical sensation. The cave man enjoyed a huge Sunday dinner, but he had no conception of the higher inspirations of public worship and but little conception of spiritual values. He still has membership in some of our churches. Money is a goodly pearl, but woe unto him who considers it the highest good, the pearl of great price. Knowledge is a goodly pearl. The love of beauty is a goodly pearl—the beauty of nature, of art, of literature. But higher values still emerge, the value of the home, of justice, of truth, of honor, of faith, of love of self sacrifice—the values which Christ brings to light and upon which he places the supreme emphasis."

"He who seeks the higher values will find them all in the pearl of great price. If he has learned the fine art of buying he will not allow the world to force its false or lesser values upon him. With him it will be 'the utmost for the highest.' He knows that face values fade. In the wide universe there are but two classes of values, perishable values and imperishable values."

At the close of the sermon several united with the church.

Practical Christianity

The sermon on Sabbath morning at the First United Presbyterian church was by the pastor, the Rev. E. G. McKibben. The text was Phil. 2:15, "That ye may become blameless and harmless, children of God without blemish in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation, among whom ye are seen as lights in the world."

The speaker said in part: One college president has as his slogan, "What you hope to be you are now becoming." No one is at a standstill. Nothing is static. Throughout this material universe change is found. The heavenly bodies are all in most rapid motion. Seemingly lifeless matter is quivering with energy. Molecules and electrons, in obedience to law, are moving with almost infinite rapidity in the atoms.

We also, in a moral and spiritual way, are moving towards certain goals. Some go in one direction some in another direction. Some go rapidly, others more slowly. Some for better and some for worse. A crisis is a severe trial, a sharp temptation reveals this progress we have made, or the degree of retrogression. Three goals are suggested to our minds for attainment in this text: The goal of relationship. The goal of attainment and the goal of influence.

In closing the pastor said by way of application: This is Christian idealism. It is a standard set up for our attainment. It is a goal toward which we should strive. As for himself Paul said, "I press towards the mark for the prize of the high calling. As for others, he exhorted, "Run with patience the race set before you looking unto Jesus, the author and the perfecter of our faith."

This is practical Christianity. Many went to be saved in their sins but not from their sins. They would (Continued on page 6)

QUITS AFTER 18 YEARS AS A HOSPITAL TRUSTEE

J. L. Cowing Resigns at Eastern Indiana Institution And Anderson
Man is Appointed

M'CRAE EXPRESSES REGRET

J. L. Cowing has received a letter from Governor Warren T. McCray, acknowledging receipt of Mr. Cowing's resignation as trustee of the Eastern Indiana Hospital for the Insane, after eighteen years in the position, and expressing keen regret that he was compelled to leave the post.

Mr. and Mrs. Cowing will leave soon after the first of the year for Miami, Florida, for the remainder of the winter, being compelled to seek a warmer climate on account of Mrs. Cowing's health.

The announcement of Mr. Cowing's resignation was withheld until Saturday, when Governor McCray announced the appointment of George Nichols of Anderson to succeed Mr. Cowing.

The governor said in his letter that he disliked to see Mr. Cowing sever his connections with the hospital and assured him that he would have his (the governor's) best wishes wherever he went. The governor also expressed his sincere appreciation of the service the Rushville man has rendered the state.

MRS. ANNIE M. CULVER DIES

Former Rush County Woman Expires in Los Angeles, Calif.

Word has been received here by relatives of the death of Mrs. Annie M. Culver at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Stevens, in Los Angeles, California.

She was a sister of the late George W. Looney, Sr., and was married to J. W. Culver, March 8, 1867. Her death occurred December 10 at the age of more than eighty years.

For many years the deceased made her home in California. When a girl she united with the Little Flatrock Christian church and was always a devoted worker in the church all of her life.

County Commissioners Will Meet in
Special Session Dec. 27

The county commissioners will hold a special meeting on Thursday, December 27, to allow all claims against the county, so that the books can be closed for the year. All who have bills against the county are urged to file them at the county auditor's office before that date.

The county council will meet in special session the Saturday following, the twenty-ninth, to make deficiency appropriations and to transact any other business that may come before the body.

URGES CURB ON MINORS SMOKING

Propaganda Aimed at Sale of Cigarettes to Boys—Will Discuss
Matter With Officials

H. M. Gard of Knightstown, a representative of the No-Tobacco League of Indiana, addressed the members of the Men's Bible class of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church Sunday morning and spoke this morning to the pupils of the Havens school building, emphasizing the harmful effects of cigarettes on the mind and body of the youth.

He will spend several days in Rushville spreading propaganda for enforcement of the Indiana law providing penalties for selling cigarettes to minors. Mr. Gard has interviewed Gates Ketchum, prosecutor, and intends to discuss the subject with Mayor Thomas, and Judge Sparks, he said.

The Indiana League agent asserted that it is not the intention of his organization to stop men over 21 years old from using tobacco, but that it proposes to educate the youth by giving statistics and medical facts.

As to some of the witnesses against the use of tobacco, Mr. Gard mentioned having talked to many school teachers during the last two years, who told of how the student using cigarettes, are slow thinkers, nervous and frequently fail in their studies. He told of having talked with judges of juvenile courts who informed him that quite a number of cases of delinquency were caused by boys beginning the use of cigarettes. Judge Clarence W. Dearth, of Muncie, told Mr. Gard, he said, that out of fifty boys who had been before him in the last four months, 41 smoked and ranged between the ages of seven and sixteen.

Mr. Gard quoted Mr. Dearth as saying that the greatest danger to our citizenship for the future is our boys and girls weakening themselves mentally, spiritually and physically by smoking cigarettes.

Several important parts of the Indiana law governing the sale and use of cigarettes to minors, were read by Mr. Gard in his talks here Sunday. Among these was section 570, "Furnishing cigarettes to minors," as follows:

It shall be unlawful for any corporation, company, firm or person to sell, barter, furnish, procure, or give away, directly or indirectly, to any minor any cigarette, cigarette wrapper, or any substitute for either, or to persuade, advise, counsel, or compel any minor to smoke any cigarette. Any such corporation, company, firm or person violating any of the provisions of this section shall for the first offense, on conviction, be fined not less than $10 nor more than $50; and, for the second offense, such corporation, company, firm or person shall, upon conviction, be fined not less than $10 nor more than $500, to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail or workhouse for any period not exceeding 30 days.

Section 2481b
2. That it shall be unlawful for any person under the full age of 21 years to misrepresent his or her age and state that he or she is over the age of 21 years in order to purchase, procure, use, sell or otherwise dispose of any cigarettes or other article mentioned in section one (1) of this act.

STEP-DAUGHTER SOUGHT IT

Case of State Ex Rel Olean Snider,
Scheduled For Tuesday, Sent to
Fayette County

Several court matters, including two changes of venues, and a ruling on a $2,000 case was made in the circuit court today by Judge Sparks, and other matters pertaining to cases were taken up.

In the complaint of Dean Travis against her step-mother, Mrs. Mary C. Brown, the court has ruled in favor of the defendant, regarding the beneficiary of a $2,000 policy paid by the Modern Woodman on account of the death of the Samuel Brown.

The widow was sued by the daughter of the deceased, by a first marriage who alleged that she should be the beneficiary. The lodge a few weeks ago paid the policy into court, and the ruling will now entitle the widow to the money.

The case of the State ex rel Olean Snider, scheduled for tomorrow, has been vened to Fayette county, upon motion of the plaintiff. The case is a paternity action, and the relator is a resident of Hancock county.

A divorce suit vened here several months ago from Shelby county in which Adah M. Dudley is plaintiff and George W. Dudley, defendant, has been transferred to Henry county by agreement of the two parties, and the clerk has been ordered to make the necessary change.

The case of Andrew A. Reed against John W. Anderson administrator of the estate of James Anderson, a complaint on a claim demanding $200, was dismissed by the court today. The case was set for trial, and neither the plaintiff nor his attorney appeared to prosecute the claim and the case was dismissed by the court.

Another claim filed by Charles F. Baxter against Howard E. Henley, administrator of the estate of Sarah A. Johnson, was dismissed by the plaintiff today. The demand was for $444.49 judgment.

HANNAH MORRIS TO ACT AS CHAIRMAN

James T. Arbuckle Resigns as Democratic County Leader And Vice-Chairman is Advanced

TO ACT UNTIL MAY PRIMARIES

The Rush County Central Democratic Committee held a special session Saturday afternoon at the office of Samuel L. Trabue, James T. Arbuckle at this session tendered his resignation as county chairman and the county organization named Miss Hannah Morris, vice-chairman, to succeed him, until his successor is named at the annual meeting after the May primary election.

Mr. Arbuckle, in tendering his resignation as county chairman, asserted that he had other business which demanded the greater portion of his time, and he stated that he did not believe that he could act as the chairman, and do the position justice.

Mr. Arbuckle is affiliated with active work in the Odd Fellows lodge, and holds a state position, and he also is about to assume the office of District Governor for the Indiana Kiwanis Clubs, which will take him from the city a great deal.

When he was elected county chairman a few years ago, Miss Morris was named vice-chairman, and she will continue in charge until after the May primary, when the annual committee meeting of the county democrats will be held, and officers elected.

PENSION LIST IS STILL A BIG ONE

U. S. Paid Out in the Last Fiscal Year $263,012,500 to Veterans and Dependents

1812 VETERANS IN LIST

Forty Veterans of That Struggle Still on Pay Roll, With Civil War Claiming the Most

Washington, Dec. 17—Although more than a century has elapsed since the war of 1812, widows of 40 veterans of that conflict still remain on the roll of the United States Pension Office, the annual report of the Commissioner of Pensions disclosed.

Pensions paid out in the last fiscal year amounted to $263,012,500, bringing up the total disbursements to pensioners, under the pension system which dates back to 1790, to $6,606,356,621.

The pension roll during the past year was made up of 168,633 Civil War veterans, 264,580 Civil War widows, 68,393 Spanish War veterans and 13,167 Spanish War widows. There are yet on the roll 49 soldiers of the Mexican War the report said.

During the year, 25,452 Civil War veterans and 23,974 Civil War widows died.

Disposal of 159,727 claims pending on July 1. Co-operation with the regular workers by temporary employees has resulted in bringing the work of the bureau to a current basis, the report stated. Of the claims disposed of 54,462 were based on Civil War service and 69,854 on service in the war with Spain.

Pension certificates issued amount to 73,362, of which 34,961 were for Civil War service and 35,894 for service in the Spanish War, bringing up the total certificates issued since the beginning of the system to 6,441,165, the report said.

The net loss to the pension roll in the past year was 7,260. This was largely offset, the report stated, by a gain of 25,364 to the Spanish War soldier roll and on addition of 4,176 to the Spanish War widow roll.

The average annual value of a pension of all classes is $421.92. The average value of a pension paid Civil War veterans is $661; of the war with Spain, $187; of the war with Mexico, $729; of the Indian wars, $217.

The average annual pension paid to a widow of a Civil War veteran is $359; of a Spanish War veteran, $240; of a Mexican War veteran, $351; of an Indian War veteran, $149; and by death of a soldier husband from injury or disease originating while in the service, 213.

Pensions are paid at rates varying from $2 per month to $416.67 per month. Pensions at rates below $12 per month are being paid to 6,726 persons, while six persons are being paid at rates in excess of $100 a month.

OF LAND

My farm, consisting of 172 acres at Stop 11, on the T. H. I. & E. Traction line, just north and east of Spiceland, Ind., will be sold on

MONDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1923

At 1:30 P. M.

This farm is 7 miles south of New Castle and 2 miles northeast of Spiceland.

THE FARM WILL BE SOLD AS A WHOLE TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER ON THE ABOVE STATED DATE

The farm is well improved with 6-room story and one-half, well built dwelling; two barns, either one of which is big enough for the farm, with cement silo, 12 x 36, newly built, with cattle feeding shed alongside of silo. The land is well drained and well fenced, and in a high state of cultivation. All tillable, excepting fifteen acres in timber, which has fine stand of blue grass, good for pasture. Has plenty of good building timber. Stock loading pens for live stock at traction stop on farm. This place is well situated in one of the best localities in Henry county and near the best markets in this section, which may be reached quickly. The farm is a money maker, but I am unable to work it alone. The place is well supplied with good water and is splendid stock and grain farm. Prospective buyers will find the owner on farm any time, and he will be glad to show them over the farm. He especially invites those who are interested to look the place over. Farm will be sold subject to a $10,000 loan, which runs for forty years. TERMS OF SALE—$2,000 to be paid in cash day of sale; balance on or before possession is given. Possession to be given on or before March 1, 1924, to suit the purchaser.

"Fountain of Youth" A Myth, Says Gland Expert

Chicago, Dec. 17.—The "fountain of youth" is a myth. Dr. Max Thorek, gland expert of international reputation, told the United Press today.

"Rejuvenation by transplanting glands is an impossibility to medical science," Dr. Thorek stated.

"It is silly to think that old men may be restored to vigorous young manhood simply by the placing glands of younger men in their bodies," he said.

Dr. Thorek's statement followed renewal of "gland bandit" activities here. Charles Ream, former University of Chicago student, was the most recent victim. He was seized by a band of men, chloroformed, and after the operation was performed, was thrown into a vacant lot.

When police announced they were investigating the death of Freeman Tracy, another University of Chicago student, murdered this week, on a theory that he might have been the intended victim of "gland bandits" general alarm swept over the campus. Twelve students asked police for permits to carry pistols in order to protect themselves.

"Not for long will young men be thus frightened," Dr. Thorek said. "Soon it will be generally known that youth cannot be restored by trans-

A Seasonal Warning

We have with us today, ladies and gentlemen, the state fire marshal, with his regular pre-Christmas warning about the dangers that lie in Christmas trees. Some may regard him as a bit of a fanatic on the subject, but to be effective in his appeal, it is essential for him to overstate the case, perhaps.

The state fire marshal says that every home brightened by a Christmas tree is also threatened by fire, in urging caution regardless of whether the tree is lighted with candles or electricity.

"The Christmas tree is like a great torch," explains the marshal. "The twigs are full of resin and the festoons and other decorations, such as paper bells, celluloid ornaments, and wood toys make it doubly dangerous. When candles are lighted constant vigilance must be kept. Never leave the tree unguarded when it is lighted. Keep a bucket of water or an extinguisher at hand. Do not let children light the candles or move them. They are feebly fastened to the delicate branches and the slightest contact with any object on the tree is likely to start a flame.

"The worst hazard of all is the spreading of coiton 'snow' beneath the tree. This should not be done in any circumstance. The carpet or rug should be protected from dropping sparks or a falling candle by a sheet of metal.

"It is unwise to let the tree stand after Christmas. The needles and twigs become dryer with each day, and the risks are heightened all around."

Spenders

It is natural for a child to be a spender. It should be taught to be a saver.

Character and inclinations are formed in youth. If not destroyed or corrected they remain into old age.

When you give your child a nickel teach it to save three cents and spend the other two. As soon as it is old enough to understand something of the future it will also comprehend the value of saving while young to insure comfort in old age.

If you do not mould the child's inclinations while young it will not be able to control them in maturity. It is clearly up to the parents.

The championship game of marbles among the grown-ups of Milroy did not come off last Saturday as scheduled and has been postponed until Xmas day when the "taws" and other prizes will be given.

And still the craze continues to grow, and from present indications the word "basket ball" will ere long be a household word in every home in this city. Never before in the history of Rushville has an athletic game taken such a hold upon the younger set. Under the coaching of Pavey, the Indianapolis Y. M. C. A. star, much should be expected of the team. The first real game of the schedule will be played next Friday evening at eight o'clock in the Graham school gymnasium between the Carthage high school basketball team and the local five.

Mrs. May Donnan of Indianapolis, who is well known to Rushville people, has been engaged by the school board of Greensburg to deliver a series of six lectures to the high school pupils, beginning January 6.

Rushville Commandery No. 49, Knights Templar, held public installation of officers with a reception to the members and their families last night. Dr. Virgil Tevis of the St. Paul's M. E. church was the installing officer and Rush G. Budd was the marshal. The following officers were installed: Frank M. Sparks, E. C.; John P. Frazee, G.; Will C. McCollin, C. G.; James V. Young, S. W.; William L. King, J. W.; Will M. Sparks, P.; Earl H. Payne, treasurer; Hugh H. Mauzy recorder; Ben A. Cox, W.; Frank C. Baell, S. B.; Wm. M. McBride, Sword Bearer; Sam Trabue, Russell Cassidy and Ferd Retherford, guards; J. M. Higgins, S.

Rue Cassidy, who had charge of Hedgewood Boy and Lady Mand C. last year, in the capacity of manager, is here to spend the winter with relatives.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Will Jay, who has been ill, is much improved today.

County Treasurer George H. Caldwell is confined to his home in East Eighth street on account of sickness.

Mrs. Janetta Carr of Chicago came yesterday to attend the funeral of Frances V., the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reynolds.

Mrs. Belle Cosand of Spiceland is here to spend the holidays with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Miller of near Milroy are spending a few days at Martinsville.

There is a cry for a candidate for president who can raise the bonus money by reducing taxes.

Mellon's plan to reduce taxes reduces the treasury income. All such plans have this great fault.

Coolidge's stand against the soldier bonus will cost him votes, but standing is better than lying.

The war vets deserve a bonus. The taxpayers deserve a reduction. And the sure deserves a rest.

The soldiers can't get their bonus because the profiteers have it.

Let every war vet chase a flag waving politician three blocks. It is a swell bonus substitute.

Make it legal for all war vets to shoot craps with loaded dice and they will collect their bonus.

Every man knows how to reduce his own taxes. This is so simple. Put them on the other fellow.

Let every war vet throw rocks at a war profiteer two hours. It would be better than a bonus.

Teach the cops to lay bricks. They could make millions in their spare months. Collect it for taxes.

If allowed to bootleg our navy could be self-supporting and pay off the national debt by Saturday.

Give an ex-private a squad of ex-sergeants to drill and he would forget all about his bonus.

Put all ex-second loozies in uniform and invite war vets to cuss them. Call it a soldier bonus.

Make all except war vets wear knitted socks in shoes a mile too big as a bonus substitute.

Order the street cleaners to turn in all the dimes they find. This would cut taxes a little.

Taxpayers can't get a reduction because the tax exempts have it.

Give a war vet a bugle to batter to pieces and he will enjoy it more than a soldier's bonus.

Man who can cut taxes and pay a bonus will be as famous as Babe Ruth.

ARLINGTON TOSSERS
WIN FROM ORANGE FIVE

HITTIN' 'EM AND MISSIN' 'EM

Lots of upsets all over the state during the week end. The Lions, however, went true to form, and have put aside the overconfidence jinx.

One of these upsets was the defeat of Moscow Saturday night, by Manilla on the Blue Ridge floor. Moscow, even like Anderson, must tumble now and then, but when they come back, everybody had better look out.

Since Moscow tumbled, we are glad that it was a Rush county team. Congratulations Em Headlee.

Could Have Been Worse

It is not half as bad as taking a brass band, 200 rooters and coming back home with a 50 to 30 score like Connersville did at Anderson.

Now that Franklin has swamped Vincennes, maybe Georgie will keep quiet for awhile. Anyway the defeat of Vincennes will give Chick Harris of Washington, something to "kid" the Vincennes papers about.

Georgie of the Vincennes Sun went clear up in the air over what we called being Vincennes'ed to death last year, and he accused us of boy-cotting the circulation of the Indianapolis News, told us it was a case of sour grapes because Rushville wasn't being picked and lots of other things. Perhaps Georgie don't know that the Assistant circulation manager of the News lives next door to us, and knows how to keep the subscribers sticking. The trouble with Georgie is that he has been so completely sold on his Vincennes team that everything in his Vincennes when you even mention it to him. Last year everyone in these parts was pickin' Vincennes—except Hittin' 'em, who only missed Anderson a couple of points, but this year we are sorta doubtful as to who to pick, but in all probability it won't be Anderson or Vincennes. Maybe Podunk.

Look out Shelbyville! Mooreland defeated Hagerstown 29 to 27 Friday night, and from the way that Hagerstown crew performed they must have a real team.

Something They Won't Forget

Markin' 'em up at Newcastle Saturday night said this: "Now lest we forget, let's take Cadiz by storm tonight, and add another victory to the ever increasing number of scalps on our belt." For some reason or other the storm turned out to be a deluge, but it was on Cadiz's side, who almost doubled the score on Newcastle, 42 to 22.

Arlington is on the war path. They handed Orange a lemon Saturday night, 35 to 19.

Italy will meet Italy when Rushville plays Richmond. They have a backguard by the name of Rizio, and we have one by the name of Comella.

HERE'S KOKOMO'S BIG 10

The Press Box makes a pick: Everybody else is getting out their Big Tens now so we might as well come forth with our own. Here it is: Santa Claus, Georgie Purcell, the Yorktown Independents Gings (that's one of the towns that Rushville is worrying about all the time), that Richmond girl's team, Kokomo's new gymnasium, prohibition Young America, payday, and Herbert Tareyton cigarettes.

Bury The Hatchet

The following from "Short Passes" appearing in the Shelbyville Republican, speaks our sentiments exactly. We haven't any quarrel with anyone, except ourselves, and we like to fuss all of the time. Listen to what they say down that way: This, from the Newcastle Courier, is slightly peppery—"Rushville and Shelbyville have started in again, and before long the air in that part of the state should be on fire with the hot remarks being passed between columnists on papers in those two cities. Their main point of discussion seems to lie in the fact that Columbus beat both teams."

At this season of the year, Courier, why would it not be better to say that the air would be frosty with the icy remarks that are made. But as far as we are concerned we are going to get along with Rushville, and with all the rest, even Columbus.

ARLINGTON HIGH SETS A FAST CLIP AND WINS

Comes Out of a Slump Saturday Night And Defeats Orange by Score of 38 to 13

GIRLS ALSO WIN THEIR GAME

Arlington high school set a fast pace in the game with Orange played at Arlington Saturday, when they counted 35 points and left Orange trailing with 19, and the Arlington girls also won out from the Orange girls, by the score of 38 to 13.

The Arlington team, which had been in a slump for several weeks, has been getting back on the winning side in recent games. In the game Saturday night, J. Readle led the scoring with 8 baskets, while F. Readle also counted one point on a foul.

The girls game was interesting and of the 38 points piled up for Arlington, Zelda Hutchinson made 30 of them, as nothing could stop her from scoring.

MANILLA TRIMS THE COWS AT BLUE RIDGE

Knocks Championship Hopes of Orange Township High School Lads, 26 to 22

Manilla high school played Moscow off their feet Saturday night at the Blue Ridge floor, leading in all stages of the game 3 or 4 points, and finishing the contest four points to the good, 26 to 22.

Manilla started off fast, and had the Moscow team at their mercy at the end of the first half, when the score stood 18 to 11. Abel for Manilla registered 7 field goals, while Gosnell for Moscow counted 8. Manilla plays at Carthage Friday night.

The line-up and summary:

Manilla 26	Moscow 22
Abel ----- F. H. Hangerford
Hester ----- F. Whisman
Baker ----- C. Gosnell
H. Brown ----- G. Tillison
R. Brown ----- G. B. Hungerford

Substitutions, Moscow, Coers for Tillison, and reverse, and Coers for H. Hungerford. Field goals, Abel 7, Hester 3, Baker, H. Hungerford, Gosnell 8. Foul goals, Abel, Baker 3, H. Hungerford, Gosnell 3.

FAIRVIEW DEFEATS WESTLAND NETTERS

Piles up 61 Points Against Invaders in Scoring Match at Falmouth Saturday Night

The Fairview Athletic club defeated the fast Westland team Saturday night at Falmouth, by the big score of 61 to 31. Fairview made a great many substitutions in the last half after they had a big lead of 32 to 7 in the first half.

The Fairview team will make its appearance in Rushville Wednesday night, when they play the Rush County coaches at the Modern Appliance building, and this should be a great contest for the fans of the county.

The line-up and summary of the game Saturday night:

Fairview 61	Westland 31
Essex ----- F. Moore
Patton ----- F. Addison
Peters ----- C. White
Cook ----- G. Dyer
Darnell ----- G. Hawkins

Substitutions, Fairview: Reynolds for Patton; McClain for Cook; Kendall for Darnell; Westland, Coffin for White.

Field goals, Essex 5, Patton 2, Reynolds 3, Peters 12, Cook 5, Moore 3, Coffin 2, Dyer 3, Addison 3, White, Foul goals, Essex 2, Patton 2, Cook 2, Peters, White, Dyer, Addison, Moore 2, Hawkins 2.

MOVIES

Roach Makes Serious Drama

Jack London's most famous story, "The Call of the Wild", has reached the screen and will be the feature attraction at the Princess theatre today and Tuesday. This is the first feature production of a serious nature to be made by Hal Roach, who has produced all the Harold Lloyd comedies.

Few comedy producers would have had the courage to choose for their first serious production a story as difficult to interpret as his famous novel about a dog. Roach went at the task in the same manner that he tackled the other production problems. After he had selected his story, he procured a first class director, got

The Best Football Team

HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Dec. 17—When conditions exist that make it impossible to pick a football team that is the champion of its own immediate neighborhood, it is much more impossible to get any line of comparison that would permit a team to be selected as the national champion.

Nothing but harsh words would be the reward of any critic who took upon himself the thankless task of even expressing an opinion on what team was the best in the country.

The matter of expressing the opinion is nothing compared to the obligation of the burden of proof that would rest upon the critic who would venture his own opinion.

Under the conditions it would be better to place the burden of proof upon the other side and approach the subject like this:

"What team in the country was better than Yale?—California?—Michigan?—Illinois?—or Cornell?" And even with ample preparation for the comeback: "They were defeated!"—It might be in point to ask:

What teams over the season were better than Notre Dame or Syracuse?

Stepping around the fact that football teams are judged entirely upon games won and lost, we will assume all risks attempting the guess that Notre Dame would defeat any team in the country with the possible exception of Yale and a Notre Dame—Yale game would be a feast for the football gods.

Notre Dame was not beaten by Nebraska. Notre Dame was upset by her own schedule. Considering the greatness of Yale, California, Michigan, Cornell, Illinois, and Syracuse, we do not believe that any of those teams could duplicate the feat of Notre Dame in beating the Army, Princeton and Georgia Tech on successive Saturdays.

Games like that take the sap out of any team, not considering the fatigue that cannot help but attend so much traveling on the road. Princeton did not have a great team, but Princeton took so much out of the Harvard team that Harvard was hardly in shape to play two weeks later with an off-Saturday intervening and Princeton played just as hard against Notre Dame.

together a strong cast, including Buck, a beautiful thoroughbred Saint Bernard and the hero of the tale. He then gave Fred Jackman, the director, full authority and unlimited funds.

As usual, this system has worked, for "The Call of the Wild", in the opinion of Manager Easley, is an extraordinary picture. He is confident that Buck will prove a favorite with people of all ages.

One reason for the remarkable health of sea-faring people is the fact that their foods are rich in the tonic and indispensable iodine. Iodine is not available in foods grown in inland regions, and the lack of it impairs the health. The iodine has been washed free from inland soil by the rains of ages, it is not available in the foods, and the body suffers because of the lack of it.

Kelp-O-Dine remedies this iodine deficiency in the diet, by supplying the pure saline iodine in nature's form and in the right amount. It makes your diet whole by supplying the one essential element your food lacks. By doing so it promotes the general health, prevents and relieves goitre, corrects faulty metabolism and acts as a general tonic. Your druggist has Kelp-O-Dine. One dollar a bottle.

FINDS HOMES FOR THE UNFORTUNATE

State Board of Charities Gives Foster Homes to 3,000 Dependent Children in State

KEPT FROM STATE HOMES

Part of Their Work is Devoted to Uplifting Children, Preventing Them From Becoming Delinquent

By JOHN A. BROWN

Secretary, Board of State Charities (Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 17—

Throughout its existence, the state board of charities has protected against the institutionalizing of normal dependent children. It believes a foster home can and should be found for every child which has lost its own home, unless it is defective and in need of institutional care and treatment.

There are three thousand children in foster homes now under the board's supervision but there are 1,600 in county orphanages and almost as many in private and denominational institutions. The institution is the easy way out of many a difficult problem, but it is a hard one for the child.

From the annual reports of the board for the past thirty years, one can learn that literally thousands of chronic paupers were dropped from the township poor relief lists under a series of laws passed between 1895 and 1901, that the county poor asylum population has remained practically stationary in numbers for a quarter of a century.

It is now made up of 38 percent under 60 years of age and 62 percent over, as against 64 percent under and 36 percent over, in those earlier days.

It was not unusual then to find as many as 400 little children mingling with adults in county poor asylums, and many of the adults were able-bodied. They left in numbers when compelled to go to work on the asylum farms.

From these reports one can learn also how the atrocity of a public hanging ceased to be tolerated, how the state prisons abandoned the hideous stripes, the dungeon, flogging and similar brutal punishments, and how the parole law and the better classification of prisoners revolutionized prison discipline.

The vagrancy problem began to diminish when tramps faced a sentence to the Indiana state farm instead of as formerly sentenced in the county jail.

These reports show also how the maternity hospital license law put an end to the exploitation of unfortunate girls and their helpless babies, and how slipshod methods of making children public wards gave place to the present juvenile court procedure which turns to public support only as a last resort.

These are some of the things that have been brought about in the Indiana system of charities and correction.

But much remains to be done. The problem of feeble-minded has hardly been touched, and no other thing is so prolific of pauperism, degeneracy and crime.

The state board has records of hundreds of families covering four five or six generations, each contributing its quota of public charges.

The states two institutions for feeble-minded have 1,600 inmates. A committee on mental defectives estimates that there are 20,000 in the state who need but are not receiving institutional care. Their presence in the community is a very serious menace.

A solution of this problem is the most important step for the immediate future.

NAVY TO ASK FOR NEW WARCRAFT

U. S. Navy Must Maintain its Standard of Strength Under Washington Disarmament Treaty

OF GREATEST IMPORTANCE

United States Can Maintain Its Equality With the British and Japanese Navies Under Agreement

By A. L. Bradford

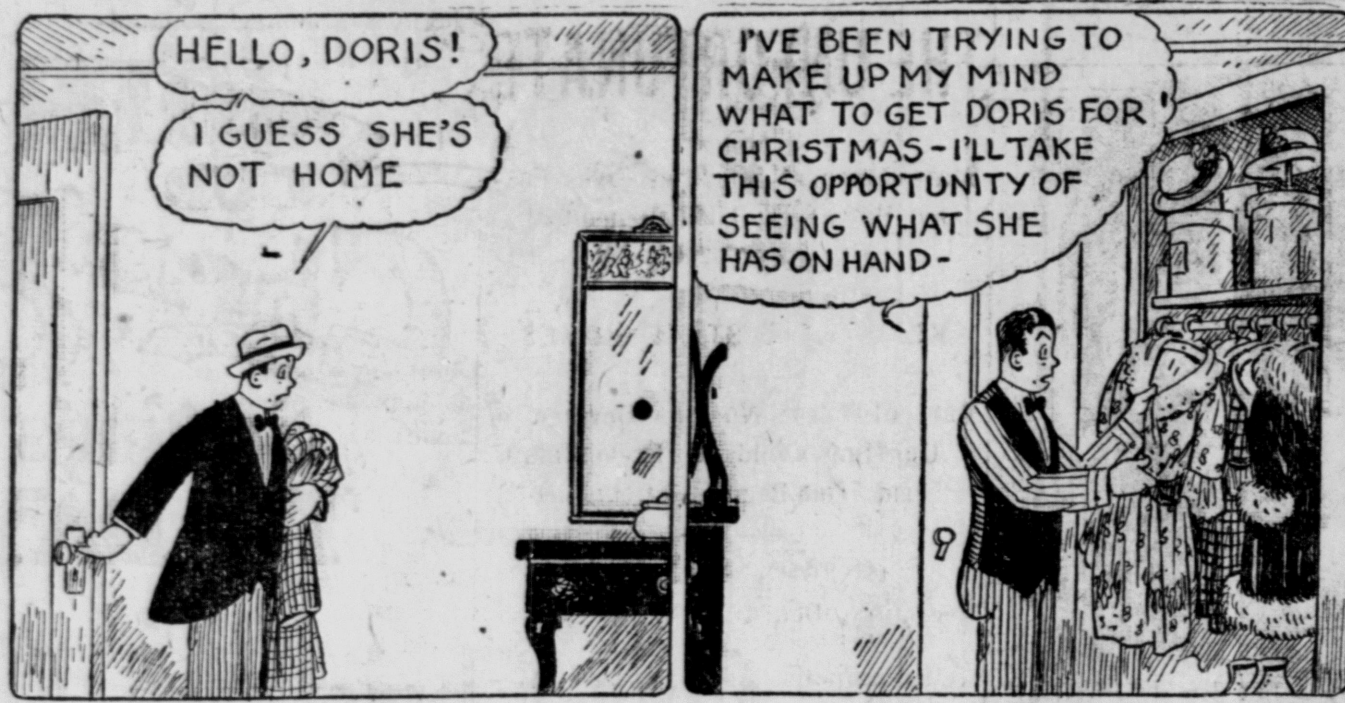

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Dec. 17—The American Navy must maintain its standard of strength under the Washington Naval Disarmament Treaty, Congress will be told by the Navy Department.

This will be the principal problem of the Navy Department before Congress—to keep up this country's strength under the 5-5-3 ratio of the naval disarmament agreement.

Under the naval disarmament treaty the United States Navy can build no new battleships for thirteen years, but the pact provides for the

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS

Wilbur Sets The Stage

By Allman

modernization of America's existing battleships for protection against torpedoes and air attack.

The Navy Department holds that this modernization of the Navy is of the greatest importance, so that the United States Navy may maintain its equality with the British and Japanese navies under the Washington agreement. For this purpose several millions of dollars are being asked of Congress.

The Washington treaty provides for American equality with the strongest of any of the other nations in aircraft carriers. The conversion of two battle cruisers into aircraft carriers is provided for in the disarmament treaty, and Navy Department is urging the work in order that the United States can keep abreast of this new development of naval warfare. Many more millions of dollars are necessary for the program of converting the battle cruisers into aircraft carriers and also for building aircraft for these carriers.

The navy is asked for eight cruisers and six submarines. The Washington treaty placed no limitation on these classes of warships, as no agreement could be reached. The navy takes the position that it is following the spirit of the treaty, as it desires to maintain only the same ratio in these classes of ships as in the case of battleships.

Cruisers are held to be a vital need to round out the fleet and give protection to commerce.

The American fleet is held to be very deficient in respect of cruisers. This country now has ten modern cruisers built or building, while Great Britain has forty-three and Japan twenty-five. Cruisers are essential to the fleet as scouts and as a supporting force for destroyers, as well as commerce protectors.

An important need of the navy which undoubtedly will come before Congress is the question of naval protection for American trade in China. A business of over $200,000,000 annually is dependent upon the protection of a few small gunboats, mostly obsolete, to guard this country's commerce against piracy and banditry in China, according to the Navy Department.

The Navy Department has asked for six fast light-draft gunboats for patrol work about 1,700 miles up the Yangtze River in China. The American warships being used for that purpose now are principally old gunboats inherited from the Spanish War, or vessels too slow to operate against flood waters. The replacing of these old ships is held to be an urgent requirement, which has the strong backing of the American Chamber of Commerce.

This Government takes the position that there is not a single naval base in the limited States that would serve the American fleet in time of war. It is planned to provide a real fleet base in the Hawaiian Islands, one in San Francisco Harbor, Puget Sound and New York. Other bases are urgently in need of repair.

The problem of insufficient naval personnel also will be a big question before Congress.

INSTRUCTS JURY FOR THE PLAINTIFF

Judge Sparks Also Exonerates Carl
O'Neil of Blame in Connection
With Accident

RECALL 3-CORNERED MISHAP

William A. Young Awarded Damages
$39.09 Against William Carr—
Costs on Defendant

A triangular automobile accident which happened at Main and Ninth streets April 25, 1922, was settled in court this morning, when the case of William A. Young against William Carr and Carl O'Neil was heard, with the jury finding for the plaintiff against Carr, and exonerating O'Neil of any blame or damages.

The jury was quickly secured this morning, and the evidence was completed before noon. The case was not argued, and the court instructed the jury to find for the defendant O'Neil and to also find for the plaintiff against Carr, for the sum demanded, $39.09.

The jury followed the instructions of the court, and costs also were assessed against Carr.

The accident on April 25, 1922 happened when the Young machine was standing in front of their residence, and according to the evidence O'Neil came out of Ninth street, onto Main, and Carr ran his machine into it, causing the O'Neil car to strike the machine that was standing still, and which was damaged to the sum of $39.09.

The jury this morning was composed of Harry Vogle, Louis R. Hill, Mike Scanlan, Oliver Megee, George Seely, Val Conway, Nathan Farlow, James Dill, Cliff Stevens, Will Morgan, Mart Beaver and John Davis.

The jury in the court case of Morgan against the City of Rushville failed to agree on a verdict Saturday and was discharged about 9:30 o'clock Saturday night, after having deliberated since the noon hour.

The jury was deadlocked at six to six, it was understood, and in all probability the case will be set for trial again in the next term of court. The complaint was for $4,350 damages for alleged negligence of the city in not capping a gas well.

With the Daily Republican-Salvation Army Santa Claus fund more than $100 short of the same day last year, Santa Claus had every reason to be despondent. Christmas is just one week away and he realizes that if the wishes of all the little folks in Rushville, who are depending on him, are fulfilled, that there will have to be some tall stepping on the part of his friends who have not yet responded to the appeal for help.

The Salvation Army kettle is doing valiant duty daily at the corner of Second and Main streets, friends of Santa Claus dropping in loose change enough Saturday to amass $19.07.

Preparations are being made for the distribution of gifts among children and baskets among the families of the city who will not have a Christmas dinner.

LOCAL PEOPLE TO ENTERTAIN

They expect to book engagements this season in several places, and have a special program for Parent-Teachers' association meetings.

Fred Clevenger Begins Term of One

Fred Clevenger, convicted last week in the circuit court of the charge of transporting liquor, and who was fined Saturday by Judge Sparks in the sum of $250, and given a sentence of from 1 to 2 years at the state prison, left this morning in company with Sheriff Hunt for Michigan City, where he began his term today.

Two other cases pending on appeal in the Supreme court, may add a few more years to his prison sentence, provided that the verdict of the local court is sustained. In all probability the decision of the higher court will not be forthcoming for a year or more, as the attorneys have been granted an extension of time to file their briefs.

The investment by the employees of the Rushville postoffice, of $25.00 in the campaign against disease, helped materially in boosting the Christmas Seals and Health Bond campaign, according to today's report on the progress that is being made. The increase in the fund since Saturday's report amounted to $56.50 and was sufficient to keep the fund running neck and neck with last year.

There were several $5.00 Health Bonds in today's report. No reports have been made from the townships yet, all of the money thus far realized, with the exception of a few dollars turned in by the Rushville township chairman, having come from Rushville.

Reports from many parts of the state, according to a story sent out by the Indiana Tuberculosis association, indicate the most successful Christmas Seal sale in the history of the state. More than 43,000,000 seals have been distributed among the ninety-two counties.

This huge total of the little holiday stickers, from the proceeds of which anti-tuberculosis work is financed in every county, was made necessary during the last week, when dozens of orders for additional millions of seals were received from many of the counties of the state. Originally it had been planned to distribute about 35,000,000 seals in the state, but recent reorders have made necessary telegraphic orders to the National Tuberculosis Association in New York for other millions of seals to be sent to Indiana.

GOATS IS GOATS

"THE FINE ART OF BUYING" IS PASTOR'S SERMON THEME

"The Fine Art of Buying" was the subject of the morning sermon delivered at St. Paul's M. E. church Sunday by the pastor, the Rev. H. W. Hargett. His text was taken from Matthew, 13:45-46, "The Kingdom of Heaven is like unto a man, God is."

"A merchant seeking goodly pearls and when he had found one pearl of great price, he went and sold all that he had and bought it," the pastor said. "That man had learned the fine art of buying. It was a neglected art, then it has remained a neglected art ever since. Hundreds of books have been published upon the art of selling. I have yet to find one upon the art of buying."

"Commercial schools and commercial clubs teach the art of selling and merchants practice it. Advertisements are skillfully worded to command attention, retention and action. The show windows suggest to the mind more than the eye sees."

"I watched a father with three eager boys peering into the beautiful Christmas windows. One boy pointed to a sled, another to a teddy bear, another to a drum. The father in imagination saw each boy enjoying the gift. The mother sees the daughter wearing the attractive dress. Father and mother buy to meet the needs of growing bodies. Do they also buy to meet the needs of growing minds and growing souls? They will if they rightly appreciate human and eternal values."

"The pearl merchant of the parable was a seeker, a finder and a buyer. The human race has ever been seeking goodly pearls. The first values that emerge in the history of the race are those of physical sensation. The cave man enjoyed a huge Sunday dinner, but he had no conception the higher inspirations of public worship and but little conception of spiritual values. He still has membership in some of our churches. Money is a goodly pearl, but woe unto him who considers it the highest good, the pearl of great price. Knowledge is a goodly pearl. The love of beauty is a goodly pearl—the beauty of nature, of art, of literature. But higher values still emerge; the value of the home, of justice, of truth, of honor, of faith, of love of self sacrifice—the values which Christ brings to light and upon which he places the supreme emphasis."

"He who seeks the higher values will find them all in the pearl of great price. If he has learned the fine art of buying he will not allow the world to force its 'false' or 'lesser' values upon him. With him it will be 'the art most for the highest. He knows that face values fade. In the wide universe there are but two classes of values, perishable values and imperishable values."

At the close of the sermon several united with the church.

Practical Christianity

The sermon on Sabbath morning at the First United Presbyterian church was by the pastor, the Rev. E. G. McKibben. The text was Phil. 2:15, "That ye may become blameless and harmless, children of God without blemish in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation, among whom ye are seen as lights in the world."

The speaker said in part: One college president has as his slogan, "What you hope to be you are now becoming." No one is at a standstill. Nothing is static. Throughout this material universe change is found. The heavenly bodies are all in most rapid motion. Seemingly lifeless matter is quivering with energy. Molecules and electrons, in obedience to law, are moving with almost infinite rapidity in the atoms.

We also, in a moral and spiritual way, are moving towards certain goals. Some go in one direction some in another direction. Some go rapidly, others more slowly. Some for better and some for worse. A crisis a severe trial, a sharp temptation reveals this progress we have made, or the degree of retrogression. Three goals are suggested to our minds for attainment in this text: The goal of Relationship, The goal of attainment, and the goal of influence.

In closing the pastor said by way of application: This is Christian idealism. It is a standard set up for our attainment. It is a goal towards which we should strive. As for himself Paul said, "I press towards the mark for the prize of the high calling. As for others, he exhorted, "Run with patience the race set before you looking unto Jesus, the author and the perfecter of our faith."

QUITS AFTER 18 YEARS AS A HOSPITAL TRUSTEE

J. L. Cowing Resigns at Eastern Indiana Hospital Trustee
Man is Appointed

M'CRAY EXPRESSES REGRET

J. L. Cowing has received a letter from Governor Warren T. McCray, acknowledging receipt of Mr. Cowing's resignation as trustee of the Eastern Indiana Hospital for the Insane, after eighteen years in the position, and expressing keen regret that he was compelled to leave the post.

Mr. and Mrs. Cowing will leave soon after the first of the year for Miami, Florida, for the remainder of the winter, being compelled to seek a warmer climate on account of Mrs. Cowing's health.

The announcement of Mr. Cowing's resignation was withheld until Saturday, when Governor McCray announced the appointment of George Nichols of Anderson to succeed Mr. Cowing.

The governor said in his letter that he disliked to see Mr. Cowing sever his connections with the hospital and assured him that he would have his (the governor's) best wishes wherever he went. The governor also expressed his sincere appreciation of the service the Rushville man has rendered the state.

MRS. ANNIE M. CULVER DIES

Former Rush County Woman Expires in Los Angeles, Calif.

Word has been received here by relatives of the death of Mrs. Annie M. Culver at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Stevens, in Los Angeles, California.

She was a sister of the late George W. Looney, Sr., and was married to J. W. Culver, March 8, 1867. Her death occurred December 10 at the age of more than eighty years.

For many years the deceased made her home in California. When a girl she united with the Little Flatrock Christian church and was always a devoted worker in the church all of her life.

TO CLOSE YEAR'S BUSINESS

County Commissioners Will Meet in
Special Session Dec. 27

The county commissioners will hold a special meeting on Thursday, December 27, to allow all claims against the county, so that the books can be closed for the year. All who have bills against the county are urged to file them at the county auditor's office before that date.

The county council will meet in special session the Saturday following, the twenty-ninth, to make deficiency appropriations and to transact any other business that may come before the body.

URGES CURB ON MINORS SMOKING

Propaganda Aimed at Sale of Cigarettes to Boys—Will Discuss
Matter With Officials

H. M. Gard of Knightstown, a representative of the No-Tobacco League of Indiana, addressed the members of the Men's Bible class of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church Sunday morning and spoke this morning to the pupils of the Haves school building, emphasizing the harmful effects of cigarettes on the mind and body of the youth.

He will spend several days in Rushville spreading propaganda for enforcement of the Indiana law providing penalties for selling cigarettes to minors. Mr. Gard has interviewed Gates Ketchum, prosecutor, and intends to discuss the subject with Mayor Thomas, and Judge Sparks, he said.

The Indiana League agent asserted that it is not the intention of his organization to stop men over 21 years old from using tobacco, but that it proposes to educate the youths by giving statistics and medical facts.

As to some of the witnesses against the use of tobacco, Mr. Gard mentioned having talked to many school teachers during the last two years, who told of how the student using cigarettes, are slow thinkers, nervous and frequently fail in their studies. He told of having talked with judges of juvenile courts who informed him that quite a number of cases of delinquency were caused by boys beginning the use of cigarettes.

Judge Clarence W. Dearth, of Muncie, told Mr. Gard, he said, that out of fifty boys who had been before him in the last four months, 41 smoked and ranged between the ages of seven and sixteen.

Mr. Gard quoted Mr. Dearth as saying that the greatest danger to our citizenship for the future is our boys and girls weakening themselves mentally, spiritually and physically by smoking cigarettes.

Several important parts of the Indiana law governing the sale and use of cigarettes to minors, were read by Mr. Gard in his talks here Sunday. Among these was section 570 "Furnishing cigarettes to minors," as follows:

It shall be unlawful for any corporation, company, firm or person to sell, barter, furnish, procure, or give away, directly or indirectly, to any minor any cigarette, cigarette wrapper, or any substitute for either, or to persuade, advise, counsel, or compel any minor to smoke any cigarette. Any such corporation, company, firm or person violating any of the provisions of this section shall for the first offense, on conviction, be fined not less than $10 nor more than $50; and, for the second offense, such corporation, company, firm or person shall, upon conviction, be fined not less than $10 nor more than $500, to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail or workhouse for any period not exceeding 30 days.

Section 2481b
2. That it shall be unlawful for any person under the full age of 21 years to misrepresent his or her age and state that he or she is over the age of 21 years in order to purchase, procure, use, sell or otherwise dispose of any cigarettes or other article mentioned in section one (1) of this act.

Case of State Ex Rel Olean Snider,
Scheduled For Tuesday, Sent to
Fayette County

Several court matters, including two changes of venues, and a ruling on a $2,000 case was made in the circuit court today by Judge Sparks, and other matters pertaining to cases were taken up.

In the complaint of Dean Travis against her step-mother, Mrs. Mary C. Brown, the court has ruled in favor of the defendant, regarding the beneficiary of a $2,000 policy paid by the Modern Woodman on account of the death of the Samuel Brown.

The widow was sued by the daughter of the deceased, by a first marriage who alleged that she should be the beneficiary. The lodge a few weeks ago paid the policy into court, and the ruling will now entitle the widow to the money.

The case of the State ex rel Olean Snider, scheduled for tomorrow, has been venue to Fayette county, upon motion of the plaintiff. The case is a paternity action, and the relator is a resident of Hancock county.

A divorce suit venue here several months ago from Shelby county in which Adah M. Dudley is plaintiff and George W. Dudley, defendant, has been transferred to Henry county by agreement of the two parties, and the clerk has been ordered to make the necessary change.

The case of Andrew A. Reed against John W. Anderson administrator of the estate of James Anderson, a complaint on a claim demanding $200, was dismissed by the court today. The case was set for trial, and neither the plaintiff nor his attorney appeared to prosecute the claim and the case was dismissed by the court.

Another claim filed by Charles F. Baxter against Howard E. Henley, administrator of the estate of Sarah A. Johnson, was dismissed by the plaintiff today. The demand was for $144.49 judgment.

HANNAH MORRIS TO ACT AS CHAIRMAN

James T. Arbuckle Resigns as Democratic County Leader And Vice-
Chairman is Advanced

TO ACT UNTIL MAY PRIMARIES

The Rush County Central Democratic Committee held a special session Saturday afternoon at the office of Samuel L. Trabue. James T. Arbuckle at this session tendered his resignation as county chairman and the county organization named Miss Hannah Morris, vice-chairman, to succeed him, until his successor is named at the annual meeting after the May primary election.

Mr. Arbuckle, in tendering his resignation as county chairman, asserted that he had other business which demanded the greater portion of his time, and he stated that he did not believe that he could act as the chairman, and do the position justice.

Mr. Arbuckle is affiliated with active work in the Odd Fellows lodge, and holds a state position, and he also is about to assume the office of District Governor for the Indiana Kiwanis Clubs, which will take him from the city a great deal.

When he was elected county chairman a few years ago, Miss Morris was named vice-chairman, and she will continue in charge until after the May primary, when the annual committee meeting of the county democrats will be held, and officers elected.

EMERGENCY OPERATION

Luther Ricker, a farmer who resides on the Charley Hugo farm, northwest of Rushville, was brought to the Dr. Sexton hospital Sunday, where he underwent an emergency operation for a violent gangrenous appendicitis. He was reported this afternoon to be getting along as good as could be expected.

PENSION LIST IS STILL A BIG ONE

U. S. Paid Out in the Last Fiscal Year $263,012,500 to Veterans and Dependents

1912 VETERANS IN LIST

Forty Veterans of That Struggle
Still on Pay Roll, With Civil War
Claiming the Most

Washington, Dec. 17.—Although more than a century has elapsed since the war of 1812, widows of 40 veterans of that conflict still remain on the roll of the United States Pension Office, the annual report of the Commissioner of Pensions disclosed.

Pensions paid out in the last fiscal year amounted to $263,012,500, bringing up the total disbursements to pensioners, under the pension system which dates back to 1790, to $6,606,356,621.

The pension roll during the past year was made up of 108,633 Civil War veterans, 264,580 Civil War widows, 68,303 Spanish War veterans and 13,167 Spanish War widows. There are yet on the roll 49 soldiers of the Mexican War the report said.

During the year, 25,452 Civil War veterans and 23,974 Civil War widows died.

Disposal of 159,727 claims pending on July 1. Co-operation with the regular workers by temporary employees has resulted in bringing the work of the bureau to a current basis, the report stated. Of the claims disposed of 54,462 were based on Civil War service and 69,854 on service in the war with Spain.

Pension certificates issued amount to 73,362, of which 34,961 were for Civil War service and 35,894 for service in the Spanish War, bringing up the total certificates issued since the beginning of the system to 6,441,165, the report said.

The net loss to the pension roll in the past year was 7,260. This was largely offset, the report stated, by a gain of 25,364 to the Spanish War soldier roll and on addition of 4,176 to the Spanish War widow roll.

The average annual value of a pension of all classes is $421.92. The average value of a pension paid Civil War veterans is $661; of the war with Spain, $187; of the war with Mexico, $724; of the Indian wars, $217.

The average annual pension paid to a widow of a Civil War veteran is $359; of a Spanish War veteran, $240; of a Mexican War veteran, $351; of an Indian War veteran, $149; and by death of a soldier husband from injury or disease originating while in the service, 213.

Pensions are paid at rates varying from $2 per month to $416.67 per month. Pensions at rates below $12 per month are being paid to 6,726 persons, while six persons are being paid at rates in excess of $100 a month.

PUBLIC SALE

OF LAND

My farm, consisting of 172 acres at Stop 11, on the T. H. I. & E. Traction line, just north and east of Spiceland, Ind., will be sold on

MONDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1923

At 1:30 P. M.

This farm is 7 miles south of New Castle and 2 miles northeast of Spiceland.

THE FARM WILL BE SOLD AS A WHOLE TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER ON THE ABOVE STATED DATE

The farm is well improved with 6-room story and one-half, well built dwelling; two barns, either one of which is big enough for the farm, with cement silo, 12 x 36, newly built, with cattle feeding shed alongside of silo. The land is well drained and well fenced, and in a high state of cultivation. All tillable, excepting fifteen acres in timber, which has fine stand of blue grass, good for pasture. Has plenty of good building timber.

Stock loading pens for live stock at traction stop on farm.

This place is well situated in one of the best localities in Henry county and near the best markets in this section, which may be reached quickly.

The farm is a money maker, but I am unable to work it alone. The place is well supplied with good water and is splendid stock and grain farm.

Prospective buyers will find the owner on farm any time, and he will be glad to show them over the farm. He especially invites those who are interested to look the place over.

Farm will be sold subject to a $10,000 loan, which runs for forty years.

TERMS OF SALE—$2,000 to be paid in cash day of sale; balance on or before possession is given. Possession to be given on or before March 1, 1924, to suit the purchaser.

"Fountain of Youth" A Myth, Says Gland Expert

Chicago, Dec. 17.—The "fountain of youth" is a myth. Dr. Max Thorek, gland expert of international reputation, told the United Press today.

"Rejuvenation by transplanting glands is an impossibility to medical science," Dr. Thorek stated.

"It is silly to think that old men may be restored to vigorous young manhood simply by the placing glands of younger men in their bodies," he said.

Dr. Thorek's statement followed renewal of "gland bandit" activities here. Charles Ream, former University of Chicago student, was the most recent victim. He was seized by a band of men, chloroformed, and after the operation was performed, was thrown into a vacant lot.

When police announced they were investigating the death of Freeman Tracy, another University of Chicago student, murdered this week, on a theory that he might have been the intended victim of "gland bandits" general alarm swept over the campus. Twelve students asked police for permits to carry pistols in order to protect themselves.

"Not for long will young men be thus frightened," Dr. Thorek said. "Soon it will be generally known that youth cannot be restored by trans-

"Almost daily some man comes to my office, declares he is in need of money and suggests perhaps I might buy his gland. Of course, I never accept any such offer.

"A surgeon who buys glands is a criminal and the man who sells them is a fool. It is unethical for any representative of the medical profession to deal in such commercial transactions."

GIVE THANKS:— Bless the Lord, O my soul: and all that is within me, bless His holy name. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases; Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with loving kindness and tender mercies; Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things; so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's.—Psalm 103: 1-5.

A Seasonal Warning

We have with us today, ladies and gentlemen, the state fire marshal, with his regular pre-Christmas warning about the dangers that lie in Christmas trees. Some may regard him as a bit of a fanatic on the subject, but to be effective in his appeal, it is essential for him to overstate the case, perhaps.

The state fire marshal says that every home brightened by a Christmas tree is also threatened by fire, in urging caution regardless of whether the tree is lighted with candles or electricity.

"The Christmas tree is like a great torch," explains the marshal. "The twigs are full of resin and the festoons and other decorations, such as paper bells, celluloid ornaments, and wood toys make it doubly dangerous. When candles are lighted constant vigilance must be kept. Never leave the tree unguarded when it is lighted. Keep a bucket of water or an extinguisher at hand. Do not let children light the candles or move them. They are feebly fastened to the delicate branches and the slightest contact with any object on the tree is likely to start a flame.

"The worst hazard of all is the spreading of cotton 'snow' beneath the tree. This should not be done in any circumstance. The carpet or rug should be protected from dropping sparks or a falling candle by a sheet of metal.

"It is unwise to let the tree stand after Christmas. The needles and twigs become dryer with each day, and the risks are heightened all around."

Spenders

It is natural for a child to be a spender. It should be taught to be a saver.

Character and inclinations are formed in youth. If not destroyed or corrected they remain into old age.

When you give your child a nickel teach it to save three cents and spend the other two. As soon as it is old enough to understand something of the future it will also comprehend the value of saving while young to insure comfort in old age.

If you do not mould the child's inclinations while young it will not be able to control them in maturity. It is clearly up to the parents.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican
Thursday, Dec. 17, 1908.

The championship game of marbles among the grown-ups of Milroy did not come off last Saturday as scheduled and has been postponed until Xmas day when the "taws" and other prizes will be given.

And still the craze continues to grow, and from present indications the word "basket ball" will ere long be a household word in every home in this city. Never before in the history of Rushville has an athletic game taken such a hold upon the younger set. Under the coaching of Pavey, the Indianapolis Y. M. C. A. star, much should be expected of the team. The first real game of the schedule will be played next Friday evening at eight o'clock in the Graham school gymnasium between the Carthage high school basketball team and the local five.

Mrs. May Donnan of Indianapolis, who is well known to Rushville people, has been engaged by the school board of Greensburg to deliver a series of six lectures to the high school pupils, beginning January 6.

Rushville Commandery No. 49, Knights Templar, held public installation of officers with a reception to the members and their families last night. Dr. Virgil Tevis of the St. Paul's M. E. church was the installing officer and Rush G. Budd was the marshal. The following officers were installed: Frank M. Sparks, E. C.; John P. Frazee, G.; Will C. McCollin, C. G.; James V. Young, S. W.; William L. King, J. W.; Will M. Sparks, P.; Earl H. Payne, treasurer; Hugh H. Manzy recorder; Ben A. Cox, W.; Frank C. Buehl, S. B.; Wm. M. McBride, Sword Bearer; Sam Trabue, Russell Cassidy and Ferd Retherford, guards; J. M. Higgins, S.

Rue Cassidy, who had charge of Hedgewood Boy and Lady Maud C. last year, in the capacity of manager, is here to spend the winter with relatives.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Will Jay, who has been ill, is much improved today.

County Treasurer George H. Caldwell is confined to his home in East Eighth street on account of sickness.

Mrs. Janetta Carr of Chicago came yesterday to attend the funeral of Frances V., the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reynolds.

Mrs. Belle Cosand of Spiceland is here to spend the holidays with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Miller of near Milroy are spending a few days at Martinsville.

There is a cry for a candidate for president who can raise the bonus money by reducing taxes.

Mellon's plan to reduce taxes reduces the treasury income. All such plans have this great fault.

Coolidge's stand against the soldier bonus will cost him votes, but standing is better than lying.

The war vets deserve a bonus. The taxpayers deserve a reduction. And the sun deserves a rest.

The soldiers can't get their bonus because the profiteers have it.

Let every war vet chase a flag waving politician three blocks. It is a swell bonus substitute.

Make it legal for all war vets to shoot craps with loaded dice and they will collect their bonus.

Every man knows how to reduce his own taxes. This is so simple. Put them on the other fellow.

Let every war vet throw rocks at a war profiteer two hours. It would be better than a bonus.

Teach the cops to lay bricks. They could make millions in their spare months. Collect it for taxes.

If allowed to bootleg our navy could be self-supporting and pay off the national debt by Saturday.

Give an ex-private a squad of ex-sergeants to drill and he would forget all about his bonus.

Put all ex-second loopeys in uniform and invite war vets to cuss them. Call it a soldier bonus.

Make all except war vets wear knitted socks in shoes a mile too big as a bonus substitute.

Order the street cleaners to turn in all the dimes they find. This would cut taxes a little.

Taxpayers can't get a reduction because the tax exempts have it.

Give a war vet a bugle to batter to pieces and he will enjoy it more than a soldiers bonus.

Man who can cut taxes and pay a bonus will be as famous as Babe Ruth.

ARLINGTON TOSSERS WIN FROM ORANGE FIVE

HITTIN' 'EM AND MISSIN' 'EM

Lots of upsets all over the state during the week end. The Lions, however, went true to form, and have put aside the overconfidence jinx.

One of these upsets was the defeat of Moscow Saturday night, by Manilla on the Blue Ridge floor. Moscow, even like Anderson, must tumble now and then, but when they come back, everybody had better look out.

Since Moscow tumbled, we are glad that it was a Rush county team. Congratulations Em Headlee.

Could Have Been Worse
It is not half as bad as taking a brass band, 200 rooters and coming back home with a 50 to 30 score like Comersville did at Anderson.

Now that Franklin has swamped Vincennes, maybe Georgie will keep quiet for awhile. Anyway the defeat of Vincennes will give Chick Harris of Washington, something to "kid" the Vincennes papers about.

Georgie of the Vincennes Sun went clear up in the air over what we said about being Vincennes'ed to death last year, and he accused us of boycotting the circulation of the Indianapolis News, told us it was a case of sour grapes because Rushville wasn't being picked and lots of other things. Perhaps Georgie don't know that the assistant circulation manager of the News lives next door to us, and knows how to keep the subscribers sticking. The trouble with Georgie is that he has been so completely sold on his Vincennes team that everything is serious when you even mention it to him. Last year everyone in these parts was pickin' Vincennes—except Hittin' 'em, who only missed Anderson a couple of points, but this year we are sorta doubtful as to who to pick, but in all probability it won't be Anderson or Vincennes. Maybe Podunk.

Look out Shelbyville! Mooreland defeated Hagerstown 29 to 27 Friday night, and from the way that Hagerstown crew performed they must have a real team.

Something They Won't Forget
Markin' up at Newcastle Saturday night said this: "Now lest we forget, let's take Cadiz by storm tonight, and add another victory to the ever increasing number of scalps on our belt." For some reason or other the storm turned out to be a deluge, but it was on Cadiz's side, who almost doubled the score on Newcastle, 42 to 22.

Arlington is on the war path. They handed Orange a lemon Saturday night, 35 to 19.

the Arlington girl's team, counted 30 points in the game against Orange, which as far as we know is a record for points for an individual player, even in a boy's game, for this part of the state.

NO BUSINESS AROUND HERE
Westland Independents have had tough luck in this part. Arlington, the Coaches and the Fairview teams all have checked up victories in the past few weeks over this aggregation.

A Real Back Guard, Too
Italy will meet Italy when Rushville plays Richmond. They have a backguard by the name of Rizio, and we have one by the name of Comella.

HERE'S KOKOMO'S BIG 10
The Press Box makes a pick: Everybody else is getting out their Big Tens now so we might as well come forth with our own. Here it is: Santa Claus, Georgie Purcell, the Yorktown Independents Gings (that's one of the towns that Rushville is worrying about all the time), that Richmond girl's team, Kokomo's new gymnasium, prohibition Young America, payday, and Herbert Tarayton cigarettes.

Shelby is Goin' to Bury The Hatchet
The following from "Short Passes" appearing in the Shelbyville Republican, speaks our sentiments exactly. We haven't any quarrel with anyone, except ourselves, and we like to fuss all of the time. Listen to what they say down that way:
This, from the Newcastle Courier, is slightly peppery—"Rushville and Shelbyville have started in again, and before long the air in that part of the state should be on fire with the hot remarks being passed between columnists on papers in those two cities. Their main point of discussion seems to lie in the fact that Columbus beat both teams."

At this season of the year, Courier, why would it not be better to say that the air would be frosty with the icy remarks that are made. But as far as we are concerned we are going to get along with Rushville, and with all the rest, even Columbus.

ARLINGTON HIGH SETS A FAST CLIP AND WINS

Comes Out of a Slump Saturday Night And Defeats Orange by Score of 38 to 13

GIRLS ALSO WIN THEIR GAME

Arlington high school set a fast pace in the game with Orange played at Arlington Saturday, when they counted 35 points and left Orange trailing with 19, and the Arlington Girls also won out from the Orange girls, by the score of 38 to 13.

The Arlington team, which had been in a slump for several weeks, has been getting back on the winning side in recent games. In the game Saturday night, J. Readle led the scoring with 8 baskets, while F. Readle also counted one point on a foul.

The girls game was interesting and of the 38 points piled up for Arlington, Zelda Hutchinson made 30 of them, as nothing could stop her from scoring.

MANILLA TRIMS THE COWS AT BLUE RIDGE

Knocks Championship Hopes of Orange Township High School Lads, 26 to 22

Manilla high school played Moscow off their feet Saturday night at the Blue Ridge floor, leading in all stages of the game 3 or 4 points, and finishing the contest four points to the good, 26 to 22.

Manilla started off fast, and had the Moscow team at their mercy at the end of the first half, when the score stood 18 to 11. Abel for Manilla registered 7 field goals, while Gosnell for Moscow counted 8. Manilla plays at Carthage Friday night.

The line-up and summary:
Manilla 26 Moscow 22
Abel F. H. Hungerford
Hester F. Whisman
Baker C. Gosnell
H. Brown G. Tillison
R. Brown G. B. Hungerford
Substitutions, Moscow, Coers for Tillison, and reverse, and Coers for H. Hungerford. Field goals, Abel 7, Hester 3, Baker, H. Hungerford, Gosnell 8. Foul goals, Abel, Baker 3, H. Hungerford, Gosnell 3.

Plays up 81 Points Against Invaders in Sporting Match at Fairview Saturday Night

The Fairview Athletic club defeated the fast Westland team Saturday night at Fairview, by the big score of 81 to 31. Fairview made a great many substitutions in the last half after they had a big lead of 32 to 7 in the first half.

The Fairview team will make its appearance in Rushville Wednesday night, when they play the Rush County coaches at the Modern Appliance building, and this should be a great contest for the fans of the county.

The line-up and summary of the game Saturday night.

Fairview 81 Westland 31
Essex F. Moore
Patton F. Addison
Peters C. White
Cook G. Dyer
Darnell G. Hawkins
Substitutions, Fairview: Reynolds for Patton; McClain for Cook; Kendall for Darnell; Westland, Coffin for White.

Roach Makes Serious Drama

Jack London's most famous story, "The Call of the Wild", has reached the screen and will be the feature attraction at the Princess theatre today and Tuesday. This is the first feature production of a serious nature to be made by Hal Roach, who has produced all the Harold Lloyd comedies.

Few comedy producers would have had the courage to choose for their first serious production a story as difficult to interpret as his famous novel about a dog. Roach went at the task in the same manner that he tackled other production problems. After he had selected his story, he procured a first class director, got

HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Dec., 17—When conditions exist that make it impossible to pick a football team that is the champion of its own immediate neighborhood, it is much more impossible to get any line of comparison that would permit a team to be selected as the national champion.

Nothing but harsh words would be the reward of any critic who took upon himself the thankless task of even expressing an opinion on what team was the best in the country.

The matter of expressing the opinion is nothing compared to the obligation of the burden of proof that would rest upon the critic who would venture his own opinion.

Under the conditions it would be better to place the burden of proof upon the other side and approach the subject like this:

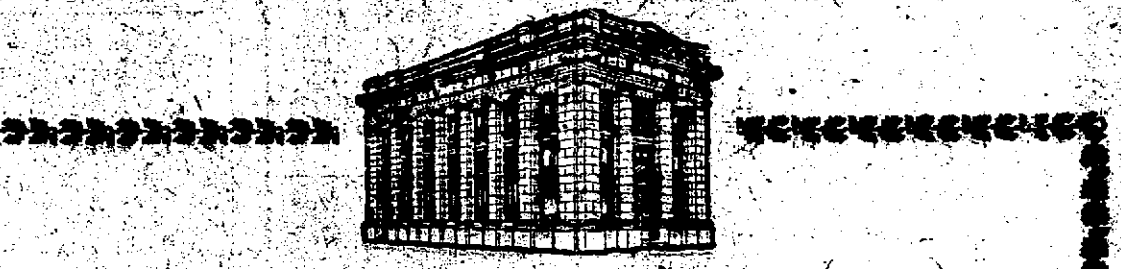

"What team in the country was better than Yale?—California?—Michigan?—Illinois?—or Cornell?" And even with ample preparation for the comeback: "They were defeated!"—It might be in point to ask:

What teams over the season were better than Notre Dame or Syracuse? Stepping around the fact that football teams are judged entirely upon games won and lost, we will assume all risks attempting the guess that Notre Dame would defeat any team in the country with the possible exception of Yale and a Notre Dame-Yale game would be a feast for the football gods.

Notre Dame was not beaten by Nebraska. Notre Dame was upset by her own schedule. Considering the greatness of Yale, California, Michigan, Cornell, Illinois, and Syracuse, we do not believe that any of those teams could duplicate the feat of Notre Dame in beating the Army, Princeton and Georgia Tech on successive Saturdays.

Games like that take the sap out of any team, not considering the fatigue that cannot help but attend so much traveling on the road. Princeton did not have a great team, but Princeton took so much out of the Harvard team that Harvard was hardly in shape to play two weeks later with an off-Saturday intervening and Princeton played just as hard against Notre Dame.

One reason for the remarkable health of sea-faring people is the fact that their foods are rich in the tonic and indispensable iodine. Iodine is not available in foods grown in inland regions, and the lack of it impairs the health. The iodine has been washed free from inland soil by the rains of ages, it is not available in the foods, and the body suffers because of the lack of it.

Kelp-O-Dine remedies this iodine deficiency in the diet, by supplying the pure saline iodine in nature's form and in the right amount. It makes your diet whole by supplying the one essential element your food lacks. By doing so it promotes the general health, prevents and cures goitre, corrects faulty metabolism and acts as a general tonic. Your druggist has Kelp-O-Dine. One dollar a bottle.

State Board of Charities Gives Foster Homes to 3,000 Dependent Children in State

KEPT FROM STATE HOMES

Part of Their Work is Devoted to Uplifting Children, Preventing Them From Becoming Delinquent

By JOHN A. BROWN

Secretary, Board of State Charities (Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 17—

Throughout its existence, the state board of charities has protected against the institutionalizing of normal dependent children. It believes a foster home can and should be found for every child which has lost its own home, unless it is defective and in need of institutional care and treatment.

There are three thousand children in foster homes now under the board's supervision but there are 1,600 in county orphanages and almost as many in private and denominational institutions. The institution is the easy way out of many a difficult problem, but it is a hard one for the child.

From the annual reports of the board for the past thirty years, one can learn that literally thousands of chronic paupers were dropped from the township poor relief lists under a series of laws passed between 1895 and 1901, that the county poor asylum population has remained practically stationary in numbers for a quarter of a century.

It is now made up of 38 percent under 60 years of age and 62 percent over, as against 64 percent under and 36 percent over, in those earlier days.

It was not unusual then to find as many as 400 little children mingling with adults in county poor asylums, and many of the adults were able-bodied. They left in numbers when compelled to go to work on the asylum farms.

From these reports one can learn also how the atrocity of a public hanging ceased to be tolerated, how the state prisons abandoned the hideous stripes, the dungeon, flogging and similar brutal punishments, and how the parole law and the better classification of prisoners revolutionized prison discipline.

The vagrancy problem began to diminish when tramps faced a sentence to the Indiana state farm instead of as formerly, sentenced in the county jail.

These reports show also how the maternity hospital license law put an end to the exploitation of unfortunate girls and their helpless babies, and how slipshod methods of making children public wards gave place to the present juvenile court procedure which turns to public support only as a last resort.

These are some of the things that have been brought about in the Indiana system of charities and correction.

But much remains to be done. The problem of feeble-minded has hardly been touched, and no other thing is so prolific of pauperism, degeneracy and crime.

The state board has records of hundreds of families covering four five or six generations, each contributing its quota of public charges.

The states two institutions for feeble-minded have 1,600 inmates. A committee on mental defectives estimates that there are 20,000 in the state who need but are not receiving institutional care. Their presence in the community is a very serious menace.

A solution of this problem is the most important step for the immediate future.

NAVY TO ASK FOR NEW WARCRAFT

U. S. Navy Must Maintain Its Standard of Strength Under Washington Disarmament Treaty

OF GREATEST IMPORTANCE

United States Can Maintain Its Equality With the British and Japanese Navies Under Agreement

By A. L. Bradford
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Dec. 17.—The American Navy must maintain its standard of strength under the Washington Naval Disarmament Treaty, Congress will be told by the Navy Department.

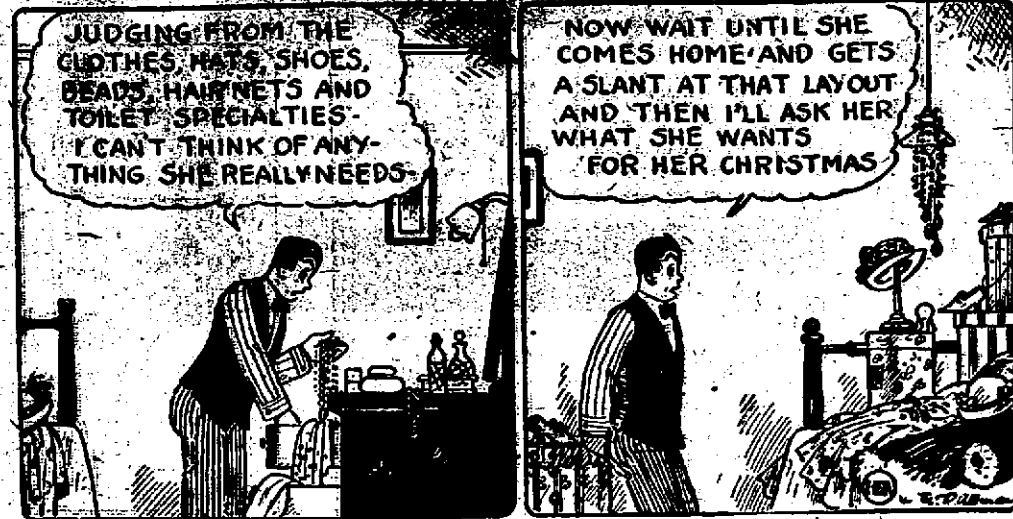

This will be the principal problem of the Navy Department before Congress—to keep up this country's strength under the 5-5-3 ratio of the naval disarmament agreement.

Under the naval disarmament treaty the United States Navy can build no new battleships for thirteen years, but the pact provides for the modernization of America's existing battleships for protection against torpedoes and air attack.

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS

By Allman

The Navy Department holds that this modernization of the Navy is of the greatest importance, so that the United States Navy may maintain its equality with the British and Japanese navies under the Washington agreement. For this purpose several millions of dollars are being asked of Congress.

The Washington treaty provides for American equality with the strongest of any of the other nations in aircraft carriers. The conversion of two battle cruisers into aircraft carriers is provided for in the disarmament treaty, and the Navy Department is urging the need of the disarmament treaty and the work in order that the United States can keep abreast of this new development of naval warfare. Many more millions of dollars are necessary for the program of converting the battle cruisers into aircraft carriers and also for building aircraft for these carriers.

The navy is asked for eight cruisers and six submarines. The Washington treaty placed no limitation on these classes of warships, as no agreement could be reached. The navy takes the position that it is following the spirit of the treaty, as it desires to maintain only the same ratio in these classes of ships as in the case of battleships.

Cruisers are held to be a vital need to round out the fleet and give protection to commerce.

The American fleet is held to be very deficient in respect of cruisers. This country now has ten modern cruisers built or building, while Great Britain has forty-three and Japan twenty-five. Cruisers are essential to the fleet as scouts and as a supporting force for destroyers, as well as commerce protectors.

An important need of the navy which undoubtedly will come before Congress is the question of naval protection for American trade in China. A business of over $200,000,000 annually is dependent upon the protection of a few small gunboats, mostly obsolete, to guard this country's commerce against piracy and banditry in China, according to the Navy Department.

The Navy Department has asked for six fast light-draft gunboats for patrol work about 1,700 miles up the Yangtze River in China. The American warships being used for that purpose now are principally old gunboats inherited from the Spanish War, or vessels too slow to operate against flood waters. The replacing of these old ships is held to be an urgent requirement, which has the strong backing of the American Chamber of Commerce.

This Government takes the position that there is not a single naval base in the United States that would serve the American fleet in time of war. It is planned to provide a real fleet base in the Hawaiian Islands, one in San Francisco Harbor, Puget Sound and New York. Other bases are urgently in need of repair.

The problem of insufficient naval personnel also will be a big question before Congress.

THE OLD HOME TOWN By Stanley

"The Fine Art of Buying" Is Pastor's Sermon Theme

like a golden crown, but prefer to avoid the cross. A heavenly reward has its appeal, but they dislike the labor and service that secure that reward. They follow afar off and so resist the Holy Spirit's influences.

In the evening, the pastor preached a gospel sermon from Romans 1:16 "For I am not ashamed of the gospel for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth."

Third of Christmas Series

The Rev. Gibson Wilson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, presented the third sermon in his Christmas series Sunday morning. His theme was: Jesus is Known by the work which he did. His text was John 5:36 "The very works that I do, bear witness of me that the Father hath sent me." He said in part: "When an ambassador comes to our country from another country he must present his credentials or we will not receive him. Jesus comes claiming to be the Son of God. Have we his credentials. Does the evidence bear out the claim? They asked Jesus, 'What sign showest thou that we may believe?' He replied 'The very works that I do bear witness of me.' Again he said, 'The blind receive their sight, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised up.' These he presents as his credentials. Let us study the testimony of his miracles.

Nicodemus said "We know that thou art a teacher come from God for no man can do the miracles which thou doest except God be with him."

Woolston says: "I believe it will be granted on all hands that the restoring of a person once indisputably dead to life is a stupendous miracle and that two or three such miracles well attested and credibly reported are enough to conciliate the belief, that the author of them was a divine agent, and invested with the power of God."

This being true, let us study his credentials from the standpoint of his miracles.

That it is possible for God to work miracles, no man will deny. We attribute to God the power to create. Thus the world owes its regularity to an alwise creator and ruler whom we designate as God. That he should interpose his will and reveal his power should not be thought strange or impossible. Naturally we would expect that he would reveal himself n a personality. That person is Jesus upon whom he has bestowed divine powers as we see in examining his credentials.

That this one whose credentials we are examining did work miracles is the testimony of the literature and people of those years in which he lived. In the Gospels forty distinct, extraordinary events bear record that the Father sent him. In addition, there are the miracles wrought by his disciples to whom he gave power.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson then presented the silent testimony as to the miracles of Jesus supporting the argument that he is the Son of God and concluded with this oft quoted reference. If his credentials are false, if there was no Christ, no Earth and if such wonderful works were never performed, then there was certainly wrought one of the greatest miracles of deception ever imposed on humanity when this impostor of a Jesus and a few ignorant fishermen wrought such a wonderful deception as to deceive the whole multitude of the Jews and heathen world at that time, organize an institution known as the Christian church for which men would give up their life, face death, and the persecutions of bloody Nero, and call forth all this erection of a church in every town, village, cross roads and street corner, and lead people to give millions of dollars every year to send the Gospel to others known as heathen.

Glorifying Christ

"A Church which Glorifies Christ" was the theme of the morning sermon at the First Baptist church Sunday morning. Taking his text from John 17:10, the pastor said in substance: "There is a story of a young man in the Far East who sought to prepare himself for the priesthood. After years of training, the old monk, his teacher, sent him to the city of Aintab. After a year of fruitless labor he returned to his teacher discouraged and despondent, saying 'Nobody but Jesus can win Aintab.' 'Go back to Aintab,' replied the teacher, 'and there you must be a Jesus.' The power of a church lies in its ability to be what Jesus would it be. The world's judgment of the church depends entirely upon the spiritual fruitage of its members.

1. The church which glorifies Christ must be a church of vision. It must know the world's needs and appreciate its own ability to meet them. Today there is no excuse for ignorance concerning great world needs. Wilful blindness is the only reason.

2. If the church is to glorify Christ it must be a giving church. Not mere money. That is incidental to what Jesus wants it life. When he gets you he has everything over which you have control.

3. "A church which glorifies Christ must be a praying church. More and more I am convinced that in this direction lies the solution of a great many of our problems. But we cannot pray until first we have given ourselves to do God's will no matter where it may lead.

4. "The result of a praying, giving church with a vision will be always a working church. Not that the burden will be borne by a few who are already faithful, but the whole church will get under its complete task in a way that will glorify Christ."

At the evening service the congregation made a special offering to the "Santa Claus Fund."

By getting the car load, we will be able to sell so cheap that everybody can have all the oranges they want for Christmas. I have all sizes, 125, 150, 175, 200, 216 and 250 to the box. Buy a box and give oranges for Xmas presents. They are always appreciated by everyone — $3.50 a Box. We have a large shipment of all kinds of nuts — good prices and the very best quality.

We have a good assortment of Xmas Trees and Wreaths. Just get in some Extra Fancy Apples and Grape Fruit.

Will have plenty of Tender, Bleached Celery, Head Lettuce and Leaf Lettuce, Fresh Oysters and Fish.

Santa Claus has promised to be at our store and Charlie Brown's grocery store Saturday all day and Monday all day. Bring the children to see him and tell him what they want.

STORE WILL BE OPEN EVENINGS —

THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY AND MONDAY

Phone your orders for Turkeys, Geese, Ducks and Dressed Chickens early so you won't be disappointed.
